Dear friend,

I enclose a small sum for the Liberty Bell - would that it was more, but I have earned almost nothing for the last six or eight months - and find the wrong side of the account much the larger.

As to a communication, you are probably aware that my efforts are generally rather dry reading - If however a short article will be acceptable, I will endeavor to prepare one, and if you have 'damage' enough without it, you need not insert it. You need feel under no embarrassment about its non-insertion - The 'Bell' ought to ring out clear tones, and not be encumbered with anything which will not give the cause a real impulse - be it great or small.

Very Resp^{tly}:

Your friend
